Parvans Identity

In the book the Breadwinner Parvana struggles living in a new world with the Taliban she cant go to school, show her face (they wear Burqa), she cant even go into stores because of her gender. When her dad got taken because of the Taliban it completely changed her identity she became the father figure for her family while he was gone. She completely changed her gender and did hard work for her family as her father would've if he wasn't gone. She also helped watch over the younger kids with her older sister because her mom was in a bad mental state and would not get out of bed.

Harry Potter's identity

Harry lives in the cupboard under the stairs and is mistreated by his Aunt, uncle and his cousin. Harry has always been treated like a servant since he went to live with his aunt and uncle he is either working all day or cramped in his cupboard but he's not at all changing his identity because of the people he lives with he isn't mean nor is he a coward he is a respectful, kind, caring person and doesn't take after any of the people in his house. Harry is a lot like his father brave, caring, adventurous, and never gives up.
